

Bunge Europe Environmental Policy

Bunge is committed to furthering the well-being of its stakeholders and the communities where we operate. As such, we seek continual improvement in environmental management and sustainable development on every level, in every business and at every location within the company.

Our goal is to implement an environmental management system that includes measurable environmental performance indicators and practices. The Executive Committee will provide the support and resources needed to succeed.

In this spirit, Bunge has adopted the following global environmental policy:

Bunge's business will be conducted in a manner that promotes environmental quality. To achieve this Bunge is committed to:

1. Comply with environmental laws and requirements applicable to our processes, products and services;
2. Promote continual environmental improvement and sustainable development by applying environmental management principles, environmental performance indicators, and environmental risk assessments;
3. Provide and support employee environmental management training, respect for the environment, and environmental performance responsibility;
4. Measure and assess environmental performance associated with our facilities' processes, products, and services;
5. Demonstrate social responsibility by seeking to meet the environmental needs of our communities and by promoting the responsible use of natural resources;
6. Seek pollution prevention, waste minimization, reuse, and recycling in our processes, products and services, when technically feasible and economically justified.

Adopted by the Executive Committee on December 8, 2005

Claudio Cervellati

Jean-Pierre Martinet

Henry Chapatte

Frans Mol

Stefan Gjerga

Ben Pearcy

Jean-Louis Gourbin

Henri Rieux

Tommy Jensen

Bruce Tomlinson

Gabriel Krapf